This of course assures them a profitable business for the current six months. We doubt not that the same good management will enable them to make another very creditable showing on the 1st of July next.

THE employes of the Belfont mill are forming a Mutual Insurance Company among themselves. This plan is, that when one of their number dies, all the others give to his family or legal representatives, one day's work. If they all sign, the amount which would go to the family of any member who dies, would be between six and eight hundred dollars. This has about the healthiest look of any insurance scheme.-Ironton Register.

ANTI-THIRD TERM.

Resolutions to be Remembered

REPUBLICAN PLATFORM NEW YORK STATE, ADOPTED SEPTEMBER 8, 1875. Eighth-Recognizing as conclusive the President's public declaration that he is not a candidate for renomination, and with the sincerest gratitude for his patriotic services, we declare our unalterable opposition to the election of any President for a third term. PENNSYLVANIA REPUBLICAN, ADOPTED MAY 26, 1875.

That we declare a firm, unqualified adherence to the unwritten law of the Republic, which wisely, and under the sanction of the most venerable of examples, limits the Presidential service of any citizen to two terms, and we, the Republicans of Pennsylvania in recognition of this law, are unalterably opposed to the election to the Presidency of any person for a third term." MASSACHUSETTS REPUBLICAN CONVENTION,

That sound reason, as well as the wise and unbroken usage of the Republic, illustrated by the example of Washington, requires that the term of the Chief Magis-trate of the United States should not exa second term. OHIO REPUBLICAN CONVENTION, 1875.

The observance of Washington's example in retiring at the close of a second Presidential term will be in the future, as it has in the past, regarded as a fundamental rule in the unwritten law of the Republic.

WISCONSIN REPUBLICAN CONVENTION, 1875. That we accept with approbation the letter of President Grant, discouraging the continuance in office of any Magistrate of the Nation for a longer period than two "Infallibility is not what is alleged by the editors of certain papers, the members of certain papers, the members of certain universities, and sometimes also by lawyers and soldiers. No, for the Pope is not infallible when he expresses only his own ideas; but he is infallible when, as head of the Church, he delines truths contained in the depository of revelation, the scripture and tradition. The Pope is not infallible when he fudges purely personal questions; but he is so when he judges detrinal questions affecting faith or morals—that is to say, revealed truth or revealed law, the Pope being infallible only when he rests on the testimony of God or revelation. The Pope is not infallible when he treats as a private doctor questions even of doctrines; but not infailible when he treats as a private doctor questions even of doctrines; but when he judges by virtue of his apostolic authority that a doctrine affecting revealed truth and revealed law ought to be held by the Universal Church."

AUNT AND NEPHEW

A Queer Suit for Breach of Promise

Argument was heard yesterday by Judge Wallace, in the United States District Court, in a breach of promise suit involve ing some very nice points of law. Nancy V. Campbell has brought suit against he nephew, Dr. Orson L. Crampton, for breach of promise. The defendant is a leading physician, practicing his profession in the City of Mobile, Ala. The two parties to the suit were residents of Mobile for several years up to 1877, and, owing to their kinship, were frequently in each to their kinship, were frequently in each other's company.

Although Miss Campbell was several years the senior of the rising young Doctor, their constant companionship fed the flame of love, which was finally fanned into a plighted troth. The engagement of marriage was made in 1873. It was not long after this strange and unusual proceeding became known, that Dr. Crampton was admonished by his friends that a union of blood relations like themselves would be illegal and incestuous. This warning so alarmed the young Doctor that he sought legal counsel, and was informed that a marriage such as he proposed would be null and void. Dr. Crampton carried the sad tidings to his lady love, but she could not see any good reason why she could not see any good reason why they could not be joined in the holy bond of matrimony so long as they loved one Time rolled on. In 1877, Miss merely turn to him and ask, 'Well, what of it? He has not told us how he did it, nor how long the time was that he employed.' So far from leosening the foundations of the lortress, these theories do not even drive in the outer line of theological pickets, and it is a gross injustice, not to say worse, for the defenders of Christianity to tell these young college students, who are under evolutionistic instruction, that our foundations are suspicious and unreliable. We do not hold our title to immortality and to the precious truths of the gospel by any such teeble tenure."

The Archbishop of Mechlin's definition of papal infallibility, as given in his defence of the Belgian bishops against the charge of disobedience to the Pope in the education controversy, is as follows:

"Infallibility is not what is alleged by the editors of certain papers, the members of certain parliaments, the professors of certain parliaments, the professors of certain universities, and sometimes in accordance with the previous under standing, for a new trial.
